To whom it may concern

Dear sir, madam,

Rizalina Cayman Bucayong

Riza has been my helper for 23 years since the birth of my second child. She helped with the care and upbringing of my three children. She has also been responsible for household duties such as cooking, cleaning, shopping et cetera. She has looked after my two dogs, feeding them and taking them for walks. I have been disabled for a number of years and wheelchair bound and Riza has cared for me by helping me transfer, washing and dressing me and helping me with eating. She has also cared for my elderly mother, who will be 89 in April.

I am leaving to move to the UK at the beginning of May and I am having to let Riza go. I wish her the best in finding a new position in Hong Kong. If she needs to be released before May, that will not be a problem.

Yours faithfully
