Reference for I

To whom it may concern, has worked for my wife and I from early November 2016 until the current date and her contract with us will expire in mid-October 2024 in effect completing four two-year contracts. During that time Racquel has consistently proved to be an excellent domestic helper, looking after our home, first in the Road area and for the last four years in Racquel is very hard working and diligent with a very good disposition and she undertook all her domestic helper responsibilities with high quality. As we only had one domestic helper Racquel undertook all the duties associated with the job, cleaning, cooking, shopping, running errands etc. Most importantly Racquel can be trusted fully to look after our home and she can be entirely relied upon. She is also very adaptable and flexible and willing learn new cooking methods and recipes.

We are re-locating from Hong Kong and therefore we are not in a position to continue with Racquel's employment. We have no hesitation in recommending Racquel to prospective future employers and will be happy to give any other information or a verbal reference if required.

Yours sincerely,
