

To Whom It May Concern:

Esmeralda started her job in September 2021, and she was an excellent maid helping my family overall. She is a skillful chef in our home, and she has always been a tidy butler. She is very heartfelt to pets and an approachable person to all family members. Her manner is beyond reproach. All in all, a very good indeed individual.

Moreover, she has a very good mastery of English and can communicate with ease. The only reason why we would resign her contract is since my family is facing a serious financial problem, we must make this decision. I would highly recommend her to any prospective employer and wish her the best of luck.

Best Regards,
